Justice's Son In Film Debut

HOLLYWOOD, CAL. (AP)—

William O. Douglas, Jr., son of the U. S. Supreme Court justice, made his movie debut Friday, playing an intern in a movie called "The Interns."

Douglas, formerly a nightclub mimic, will drop his middle initial and "junior" in his acting career.

DOUGLAS, JR.

Young Douglas, 28, worked for the Central Intelligence Agency after graduation from Whitman College. Later he studied pantomime in Paris with famed mime Marcel Marceau.

Producer Bobby Cohn saw Douglas perform in a Seattle nightclub and signed him for the movie.
